

Finding Articles - Academic One File

Academic OneFile is the premier source for peer-reviewed, full-text articles from the world's leading journals and reference sources. With extensive coverage of the physical sciences, technology, medicine, social sciences, the arts, theology, literature and other subjects, Academic OneFile is both authoritative and comprehensive. With millions of articles available in both PDF and HTML full-text with no restrictions, researchers are able to find accurate information quickly. Includes full-text coverage of the New York Times back to 1995. Updated daily.

1 - Log onto the Library website: www.worcester.edu/library

2 - Choose the link on the bar at the top of the page for databases

3 - Click the title link for Academic One File

You will need your WSC Username and Password to access this database from home

4 - When the database opens, click on the link below the search box reading "More Search Options". Fill in the following boxes (boxes 2-4 are optional):

Basic Search

Find:

Search for words in: Subject Keyword Entire document

Limit the results:

to documents with full text

to peer-reviewed publications ← 3

to document with images

by publication date(s): All Dates Before On After Between and

by publication title: Browse Publication Title

by publication subject: Browse Publication Subject

Hide search options

Powered by InfoTrac®

Callouts: 1 points to the search box; 2 points to the 'Limit the results' section; 3 points to the 'to peer-reviewed publications' checkbox; 4 points to the 'by publication title' and 'by publication subject' fields.

5 - Press the blue Search button & you will get your list of articles:

3. eDanger.com.\(instant messaging, virtual intimate relations\). Bruce Gross.
The Forensic Examiner 14.4 (Winter 2005): p58(8). (5522 words)
Full-text with graphics | 8 PDF pages | About this publication | How to Cite

6 - Click on the Text link ... and it's a print!

Advanced Tips

- Don't check the limit for full text first. Try to find material on your topic without regard to full text availability; this way, you can refine your search using the best terms, concepts and keywords. When you get good results and know that there is enough material on your topic, then you can limit to full text. Click on the link reading: Expand/Limit
- When you find an article that is exactly what you need for your research, remember that you must be sure to credit your source so that you will not be guilty of plagiarism. There are numerous opportunities on various search screens to put your reference into the correct format. Click on How to Cite You will have the choice of MLA or APA format.
- The default setting is for Basic Search. This is fine for most all searches. To refine your results, you can also click on the subject terms in the left side menu to further narrow your search and match more precisely the concepts in your topic. Advanced search is the way to find articles if you are looking for a specific author.
- A good way to save results is to check the box - Mark - for each individual article you want to select. This action saves individual records to a folder which you can later edit to remove any unwanted records.  Marked Items
You may then E-mail the citations and/or full text to yourself or others.
- Article not available full text online? Try our Getting Started page.