

DID YOU KNOW...

If you get into a search screen and don't want to select anything, you can use the ESC (escape) key to get out:

The screenshot shows a web application interface for searching state/province area codes. The header includes the logo for Worcester University, a search bar with the text 'STPR: State/Province Area Codes', and navigation buttons like 'Navigate', 'Log Out', and a settings icon. The main content area displays search results for 'STATES'. The results are presented in a table with columns for '#', 'State ID', and 'Description'. The table lists states from Iowa (IA) to Nebraska (NE). Below the table, there are navigation controls including '+ Add', a keyboard icon, a page indicator '21 - 40 of 64', and buttons for 'Open', '0 Selected', and 'Select All'. At the bottom, there is a 'Country' dropdown menu and a zoom level indicator '100%'.
